Dems eyeing temporary state income tax hike

THE DEMOCRATIC House leadership yesterday agreed to plug last year’s budget deficit with a temporary, 18-month hike in the state’s income tax, sources told the Herald.

The precise outline of the tax package was not decided yesterday, but sources said a proposal to fund loans slated to cover a $619 million deficit will include temporarily increasing the income tax from 5 percent to 5.75 percent.

House Speaker George Keverian (D-Everett) emerged from a three-hour leadership meeting yesterday and refused to describe or discuss the tax plan, but said an agreement had been reached.

Before entering the meeting, the speaker said he is “more in favor” of an 18-month income tax hike than he had been previously, because it would erase the deficit faster and save the state money on debt service.

“It is going to be difficult to sell anything to the members,” Keverian said, but he indicated passage would be easier with a temporary tax and short-term bond package.

The plan, which is being described as temporary, would increase tax rates on earned income from 5 percent to 5.375 percent for 1989 and then up to 5.75 percent for 1990.

House leaders plan to push for the state to deal with the fiscal 1989 deficit and pay old Medicaid debts by temporarily increasing the state income tax from 5 percent to 5.75 percent, sources said yesterday.

House Speaker George Keverian met with other members of his leadership team yesterday to talk taxes, but he declined to discuss his plans with reporters until after a meeting with other House members tomorrow.

Sources said Keverian plans to push for a 15 percent increase in the tax on earned income for an 18-month period, raising between $680 million and $800 million.

The coalition, a 40-member organization representing 45,000 businesses, also opposed the temporary tax package, saying there is currently no guarantee it would remain in place for just 18 months.

For his part, state Senator Walter J. Boverini (D-Lynn) was also prepared to support the temporary tax increase.

“This is a very distasteful thing, to vote for taxes,” he says. “But we do have obligations we’ve voted for ourselves.”

“Everyone likes to blame Michael Dukakis for this. We all have to share the blame and vote in some temporary taxes. But we have to make sure it is temporary.”

THE MASSACHUSETTS Legislature gave its approval last night to a temporary, 15 percent hike in the state income tax to cover the state’s debts following a blistering, partisan debate.

The House Democratic leadership made its fragile, four-vote advantage stick on an 82-78 vote in favor of the tax bill and the Senate swept the 18-month increase through on a 23-15 vote.

IN THE privacy of his State House office, Gov. Michael Dukakis last night signed into law a temporary 15 percent hike in the state income tax designed to sop up the red ink in last year’s budget.

Dukakis put his signature on the controversial 18-month tax hike, vetoed $53.6 million from a final spending bill for the prior fiscal year and quickly departed, offering no public comment on his actions.
